

Exciting News from Or Atid's Adult Ed!

Guest lecturer Rabbi Benjamin Samuels returns to teach a summer mini-course at Or Atid

“Torah, Mysteries, Scientific Advances, and Secret Knowledge: Ways of Relating Judaism and Science in Jewish Thought and Law “

Class meets on Thursdays

June 20, June 27, July 11, July 18, July 25

7:30pm to 9:30pm

In this course, we'll explore legal and theological strategies employed in resolving seeming conflicts of Torah and Science and discuss how our investigation of these strategies may better direct the use of ancient sources to address contemporary issues. Each of our sessions will be devoted to particular topics with suggested readings. Rabbi Polisson will join Rabbi Samuels in teaching the last session. Course fee is $100 per person. For more information, contact Amy or Neil (see contact information below).

Rabbi Samuels has served as Rabbi of Congregation Shaarei Tefillah of Newton Centre since 1995, studied for two years at Yeshivat Har Etzion, and holds a BA in English Literature, and a MA in Biblical Studies and Medieval Jewish History from Yeshiva University. Rabbi Samuels has recently completed his doctorate in Science, Philosophy, and Religion at Boston University and teaches widely in the Greater Boston Jewish community.

Please RSVP by Monday, June 10 to
